

There's no more room in the dojo

In the dojo, the wise bear Andrew trains everyday with his students.

One day, a new girl arrives (a hare) but the rest of the group (boy raccoons) don't want to accept this new member. This story teaches the importance of inclusion and helps children understand what bullying is and why it's bad.

Reading comprehension questions

1. What does Andrew the bear teach?
2. Who is the new student in the school?
3. What do the raccoons do when they see the hare?
4. What do the raccoons do when they realize they've treated Lisa badly?

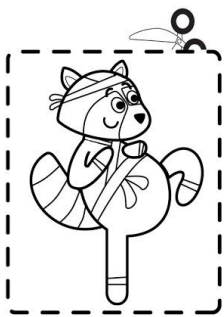

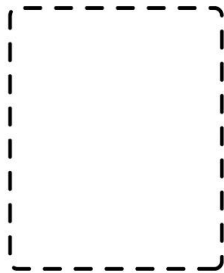

Ideas for activities

- Construction game: create sequences and ask children to complete them (e.g. red, yellow, red, yellow, red...)

COMPLETE THE SEQUENCE!

Cut out the animal that completes the sequence and paste it in the right place.

HELP THE BEAR DRESS HIMSELF!

Draw a line from the bear to the items of clothing he still needs to put on.
